In “Examining the Supports and Advice That Women With Intimate Partner Violence Experience Received in Online Health Communities: Text Mining Approach” the authors made one clarification.

In the originally submitted manuscript, the Ethics Approval section appeared as follows:

As web-based data were publicly available for this study, an approval for exemption was obtained from the institutional review board at the University of Pittsburgh (MOD20030179-002).

This has been updated as follows:

As web-based data were publicly available for this study, an approval for exemption was obtained from the institutional review board at the University of Pittsburgh (MOD20030179-002). IRB approval was obtained prior to the subreddit’s ‘no research’ use rule, which has since been implemented

The correction will appear in the online version of the paper on the JMIR Publications website, together with the publication of this correction notice. Because this was made after submission to PubMed, PubMed Central, and other full-text repositories, the corrected article has also been resubmitted to those repositories.
